This work was translated from the German Manuscript of Gustav Angne by me the writer Lawrence W. Jenkins, September 19, 1978 to December 15, 1978. Some words are left in their German form, along with the Towns and Cities. Corrections are welcome in the case of errors in translation. Where known I have included the English name for some of the German names and any names that I have found the meaning of since are included. Two of the names in this case are Wagner and Ziegler. In the case of Wagner he is a wheelright; and in the case of Ziegler he is a goatherder: Also the S. above it the German abbreviation for the letter p for Page.

Translation of Gustav Angne work from German to English.

Introduction:

1. Faculty, origin, and change of the family names.
According to A. Dayzat; (2) is AGNAN (a variation Of ANGNE in message central from New France.) Old family name learned is a form of the Latin language sacred in names "ANANIAS". AGNAN. is one more French variation, that reforming of the Latin language names resulted in the time of the people moving. This is a form of Vulgar Latin besides the old French Language (3&4) which sequence this reforming is.

ANANIAS= ANIAN; ANGNAN; ANGNE; TO AGNE; (Volume Lineage--Rule) therefore dignity in which "I" is (consonantable) while Alsace-Lorraine area trends towards the German name contact and the English version to ANGUENE; ANGUENET; and the ANKENE one has the same origin for D'AGNE THEN TO D'ANQUENET.

2. Origin and Occurrence:

The first carrier of the name in the Pfalzberg area was PETER AGNE (4C) and also happened nearly simultaneously in Zweibrücken; ANGNE; AGNE; and ANGENET. (6&7) spelling hereon shall be allowed under different origin one, that he be a direct descendant to Metz; Pfalzberg, and Lixheim, from France from which he fled. The Huguenot family of AGNE; ANGUENET; came to safeguard this and find work, Reference records of the trip can be found in the Archives in Bern; (8). gave the name that is in the questionable time with the Swiss, not PORTIERS. The Migration from France followed over to Metz; Pfalzberg; etc. Possibly over Roth also in Lorraine. (Also in the main migration points to the Palatinate Estate, according to Zweibrücken.

The descendants to the Pfalz, (Palatinate) in the immigration were PETER AGNE, ANGNE; families spread themselves into the Duchy of Zweibrücken, early, on the border of the Palatinate Resort, and the County Hanau-Lichtenburg. This was unspoken of the present district of the entire countryside of Zweibrücken; Hamburg; district Kaiserslautern; Pirmasens; Kusel; St. Ingbert; and earlier also to Bergzabern. One Member had the idea to emigrate to (18) to (18V). A hundred years after they go to the Colonies (USA) or Brazil, South America.

Two families turn back, I ti is the family tree from Snare to Snare.

B. Into the family series:

A. This information was obtained with help from the Pfalzburg and Lixheim Archives in Notary form and also in the department of Archives in Moselle; Metz; and the municipalities of Strasbourg. References obtained in Metz are in fact 3E 5906/3; and Volume 340 and 370 in Strasbourg. Light can be shone in the Church Record Book for the French Reference to the Parish in Metz. To count the connection through generation relationship from the Father, to the son and daughters and their families etc. to find out and prove the origin and make the findings especially worthwhile with help and assistance of Christian Wolfe; the Archives Department of the Rhine; Strasbourg; and the Material obtained from the University of Heidelberg; and Geneva. He gave cause to these institutions to discover all there is in this source of information and indication to direct ion of the same.

The work "and activities of some Butchers; Tanners; and Merchants of Cattle; are from the Original Huguenots of Pfalzburg; Metz; Buschweiler; Heidelberg?; (17E) can look to Christian Wolfe for general information of the courage of one older member of 2/&3. Verification of origin of them and information concerning their journey; 11; 111; & IV During the entrance in Reform KB. From Zweibrücken; while serious would permit the reformation in Lorraine against the migration of Outsiders and members; such as PETER AGNE Nn. IVe to Zweibrücken.

In reference to PETER AGNE research was conducted at the Archives Departments of Vienna; Volumes 63E-16 of 1963. PETER AGNE, was a Nobleman of the Mothe of Roux near Pfarrei; Berlin; Niort; and Portiers; to find more about him and his structure; in the family origin. 1A. & 1B. although temporal the Ancestry both sexual and in old-age makes possible through the article that the first name of our progenitor was PETER, and through Proof is accepted as fact.

The information from the family book (Wappenbook) can state family members; Area; Guild; references from Zweibrücken in the years 1673 and 1675 to the son (4C) and father (4A); to place the connection to the Palitinate of the father aforementioned to make the succession and family generations certain.

STATE HISTORY:

About 1500 the French Reformed Religion believed in the education of each other. The Calvinists gave strong support and had strong pull inside France. Harsh messages were sent from one to another with a willingness to fight if necessary. 1562-1598. The Huguenot War; 1572, Bartholomew's Night "Huguenots" meant mutilation of the Confederation. They obtained as their leader, COLIGNY. In their Honor (Official Curbs were not permitted.)

At the present time (1574-1589) of this outbreak, led against PETER AGNE, NOBLEMAN OF THE MOTHE OF ROUX, in one company, (Ref. Army of Mankind, POTIERS, 1598, - Edict of Nantes, Under HENRY IV. B.W.)

TRANSLATION OF,,THE WORK OF GUSTAVE ANGNE FROM GERMAN TO ENGLISH:

Remark: /' - ..,

Tn drafting th'is 'certain work on the ancestors, a great number, of people gave the information. The drive to go after the list gave rise to myself to begin. A special thanks also goes to my deceased sister, Elisabeth for ,her sugge~stions anf encouragement t,oo.

It was necessary;by the investigation to gain leave f-from my position . More than 6,0.$00facts and their connections caused me to enquire and write from time to time to prove or criticize' the connection, frequently. The references concerning the lists 'of.per-persons;

sons; some of which,I am not able to prove because of their close connection of the relationship; The one free partition gives the name of the grandparents, on which I am standing firm. The entry is a must in the church records and the documents in the registers off-office,

ice, which are numerous, In turn one sees it was a very busy time, and was necessary on the spot. For this reason spare time was used, and in many cases on short, notice. Nothing was agined more and more times as more.data was accumulated. Under favourable circumstances, of spelling my observations grows. Because of errors inthe.exact d a t e s , one gets experienced and has a target to aim at. This.is also the same for the children.- Facts start to back it from this and there about bits of'information and alloted to discrepencies, You can see by it that errors and discrepencies causes consideration that grows with the facts, a,fteryard.

Interesting artic,les are natural in the inquiry concerning the members numbered 'one to "five (I-5)'leaves a lot of holiow places or spots in the .records. Visits 'to the Archives in Metz, and Stras-Strasbourg,

burg, were necessary. Yet aglain ,there is a known measure, It was very interesting to sea'rch the firstof the five that li.nk' back 'I found.
The Toil necessary in this looking for the link to our departed anc-ance

s t o r s .

e I blanket the inquiry into the hundreds of years, before 1900, and leave in the end again, with -a .bette,r insight and understanding of the writing by the existing eras -and the material contain.ed. The Natural and strong point spreads the sequence of these observations.
Now all Persons and places help in searching and otherwise be- being of help.

ing Thank You.
